

DFW FOOT AND ANKLE, P.A.

Davey Suh, DPM

Dr. Davey Suh at DFW Foot and Ankle, P.A. understands that health is our most important resource. That's why he and his team remain committed to keeping patients walking, comfortably. Whether patients seek sports-related treatment, diabetes-related treatment, or they need help with common foot and ankle ailments such as heel pain, bunions, ingrown toenails, and hammertoes, Dr. Suh stands ready to provide expert care in a relaxed, comfortable environment.

Rather than focusing only on the foot and ankle problems that patients face, Dr. Suh takes a comprehensive approach. "I focus on the patient as a whole and treat the root cause of their issue. This allows me to determine the main problem to best resolve the issues," he explains. "We treat the patient as a person, not as a number. We take the time to get to know them individually and treat them individually."

In his practice, Dr. Suh has treated patients of all ages, from three months old to 103 years old. He encourages parents to bring their children in for regular foot care, which can help minimize foot problems later in life. "We see many pediatric patients. Some kids have issues that pediatricians don't always know how to address," he says. "When you can treat pediatric problems sooner, those issues are easier to treat in adulthood."

Dr. Suh possesses extensive foot and ankle surgical training and maintains a special interest in treating pediatric patients and offering the latest treatment for sports and trauma injuries. Patients who desire to avoid surgery will appreciate Dr. Suh's conservative approach. "I try to find other routes to fix a patient's issues, with surgery as a last resort," he says. "My goal is to keep people healthy. To be healthy, they have to be able to walk."

Dr. Suh has risen as a leader in local podiatric care, receiving many awards and accolades, including several Readers' Choice awards for Top Doctor and Best Podiatrist. Patients have many positive things to say about Dr. Suh. One Google reviewer commented, "We went on a neighbor recommendation and we will not go anywhere else. He is the best!" Another patient raved, "Dr. Suh possesses the skill and knowledge that immediately create trust in his treatment and direction for care. I would not consider going anywhere else when it comes to my feet and ankles."

Dr. Suh has been providing podiatry and foot and ankle surgery to patients of all ages in the Metroplex for nearly two deacades. A native Texan who hails from Fort Worth, he finds joy in helping his patients relieve their pain and get back to the activities they love. "Every day I see people with different ailments," he says. "When I see patients pain-free on follow-ups, that's why I do what I do."

If you or a loved one suffer from foot or ankle pain, you don't have to ignore it. Make an appointment to see Dr. Suh at DFW Foot and Ankle and let him help you put your best foot forward—without aches and pains.
